“Students’ Choice” Corn Dip Is a Snack-Attack Hit

When college kids return home for the summer, they spend the first few days catching up on sleep, seeing friends, and eventually dumping out a semester’s worth of laundry from bulging duffel bags. But 21-year-old Tommy Bennett had an extra thought on his mind when he landed in Minnesota after his junior year at Pepperdine University in California. Within moments of arriving, he made a dash to the neighborhood market to pick up ingredients for a corn dip recipe that he and four roommates — Sean, Mack, John and Erik — made famous with their classmates. Corn dip!

“I can’t live a day without it,” he said as he stirred up a taste test for me in his mom’s biggest serving bowl. “It’s a perfect snack with tortilla chips when friends come by and a good spread on toast and crackers when you need something to tide you over after studying late at night. We always doubled the recipe at school to have plenty to go around. When we ran out after four or five days, we rotated who bought the ingredients. And it only takes 10 minutes to make!” he added.

Not only was I impressed by the simple steps and taste (it gets its kick from the jalapenos), but I was also happily reminded of the pleasure that we adults can experience when learning something new from our kids and their friends.

Here is their easy recipe, which you can make famous in your household this spring and summer. Experiment with it and use it as a dip for raw vegetables or as a tasty filling with coarsely shredded carrots and sliced sugar snap peas in flour tortilla wraps.

CORN DIP Yields 4 cups

- 2 (15-ounce) cans Southwest Mexicorn with sweet peppers, drained
- 1 (4-ounce) can diced roasted green chilies, drained
- 1 (4-ounce) can diced jalapenos, drained
- 2 green onions (scallions), finely chopped
- 3/4 cup light mayonnaise
- 2/3 cup light sour cream
- 2 cups sharp cheddar cheese, shredded

Combine all ingredients in a large bowl. Chill, covered, for several hours or overnight to allow flavors to intensify. Serve with corn chips in scoop shapes.

Keeps well in the refrigerator (covered) for four to five days. Stir before serving.

Summer Company

Dear Annie,
We have a lot of company planning to visit us next month. Can you suggest a breakfast dish that I can prepare ahead of time? Thank you.
Fannie from Boynton Beach, Florida

Dear Fannie,
During a recent visit with our artist friends Barbara and Bob we were served this wonderful, but easy to prepare, breakfast casserole. Barbara mentioned how she had made the strata the day before. So, of course, when you wrote, I immediately asked her for her recipe. Enjoy your company! —Annie

BREAKFAST STRATA

- 2 packages Brown and Serve Sausage Links
- 8 slices of white bread, cubed
- 2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
- 5 eggs
- 2 ½ cups milk
- ¾ cup heavy cream
- ¼ teaspoon dry mustard

Grease an 8-by-12 baking dish with non-stick cooking spray. Place the bread cubes along the bottom of the pan. Cut the sausage links into bite-size pieces. Mix the remaining ingredients in a medium-size bowl. Top the bread with the contents of the bowl. Refrigerate overnight. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Bake uncovered for 1½ hours. Serves 8.

DEAR AUNT BINGO

by Bonnie Mitchell

Employee Play

Dear Aunt Bingo,
Some Bingo players feel it is not fair for employees of a Bingo hall to play Bingo at the hall they are employed at. Most employees of a Bingo hall are Bingo players who enjoy playing at their favorite hall and want to work part-time. Would it really be fair to tell them they cannot play

Bingo there because they work there one or two days a week? Do grocery stores or department stores or any business tell their employees they cannot shop there because that is where they are employed? Do bowling alleys or golf courses tell employees they cannot play there?

Employees of a Bingo hall do have other jobs and their money is just as good as anyone else's. They purchase their paper just like anyone else from the same stack and series of papers as the rest of the players.

Bingo players who feel employees should not be playing are the same players who sit there and say things like: "Look at that lady; she always wins here!" or "That person over there has won three times tonight!" These jealous Bingo players will never be happy playing at any Bingo hall; and if they do feel a Bingo hall is cheating, why would they want to play there and support them?

I don't think it's fair to ban employees from playing Bingo on their days off. Bingo is and should be for everyone! —BT, Nampa, Idaho

Dear BT,

The service a Bingo hall provides is a game of chance, which makes it a bit different than a grocery store because tensions tend to run high when prize money is on the line, as opposed to just spending money to get groceries (though with current grocery prices this may not always hold true). While depriving workers and their family members the opportunity to play seems unfair, the suspicions that arise among players may actually hurt the hall in terms of attendance over time. It's a good question to throw out to our readers: are players' suspicions a sufficient reason for a manager to rethink this policy? Send your comments and questions to: Aunt Bingo c/o the Bingo Bugle, P.O. Box 527, Vashon, WA 98070. You also may e-mail them to the editor at tara@bingobugle.com. Letters may be edited for space and clarity. —Aunt Bingo

SENIOR NEWS LINE

by Matilda Charles

Tuning Out the News

Today marks seven days since I've watched the television news. For a news junkie, that's a very long time. But I feel much better for having taken a break.

It can't be good for us, either mentally or physically, to be constantly bombarded with information that causes stress and likely has a health impact in the form of higher blood pressure.

The chronic chaos shown to us on television news even impacts us socially when we don't know anymore what the safe topics are, and sometimes we just give up and don't talk much at all when we're with others. Gone is the spontaneity (and the joy) we once felt, and we eventually stop socializing altogether because of the additional stress it brings when in the company of others who insist on talking about negative news topics.

The news comes at us from several directions: the computer, the television, our cellphones. Add to that the stream of breaking news alerts either on the television or notifications chiming on our phones, and we just don't get away from it.

Before I could go cold turkey and avoid the news, I knew I'd have to keep up with weather. In my area it's safer to know what's coming. To stay ahead of possible bad weather I use the Weather Channel on TV and Wunderground (www.wunderground.com) on the computer.

Not that I can do this indefinitely, of course, avoiding the news. At some point I'm going to have to check back in with the rest of the world. But it's been a relief not to be bombarded with constant chaos, hysteria, sensational crawlers on the screen and differing viewpoints about world events.

I invite you to try it for yourself, even if it's just for a few days. You'll feel better.

Veterans Post

Our Prisons Must be Full

Are we short on prison space in this country? We must be. It's the only logical explanation for so many criminals being given probation instead of prison time.

For example, there were the scammers who sold misbranded N95 masks during the pandemic and price gouged hospitals. The masks were promised to be approved by the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health when they were not and were accompanied by test-result literature that was actually for a different mask. Hospitals paid $2.6 million for the masks that had much lower filtration efficiency.

So what was the punishment? One year of probation and a fine of only $9,500.

Then there was the real estate agent property manager who didn't tell anybody about the lead-based paint in the housing where veterans lived with their families. The agent knew this and still signed rental agreements without notifying residents about the paint. A baby living there was found to have high blood lead levels because of the lead in the paint.

The agent's scammer pals, a hazardous material mitigation service, were hired to go in and clean up the lead paint. They didn't and were eventually nailed with one count of the False Claims Act. And after putting lives in danger, what was the punishment for the real estate agent and the scammer pals? Probation and fines.

Then there was the guy who schemed to grab Covid funding to the tune of nearly a half million dollars. Punishment: a fine and — you guessed it — probation.

And what of the guy who groped a student nurse at a VA hospital, a case of abusive sexual contact? The guidelines indicate he could have gotten up to two years in prison. Yet he gets a free pass. Once again: probation.

I can only conclude that our prisons are full. There's no other explanation for only giving probation to these criminals.

PICKS OF THE MONTH

The Better Sister (TV-MA) — Jessica Biel's last lead television role was in the 2022 crime-drama series Candy, but it seems that television suits Biel more than movies, as evidenced by her performance in this upcoming thriller series premiering May 29. The series picks up as Biel's character, Chloe, stumbles upon her husband's dead body. Following the aftermath of his murder, which appears to be a "burglary gone wrong," Chloe's estranged sister, Nicky (Elizabeth Banks), shows up at her door to lend her support, even though she has her own string of issues. These two opposite sisters being forced together only adds to the increasing tension as the police work to solve the murder. (Amazon Prime Video)

Tucci in Italy (TV-PG) — About a month ago, Stanley Tucci's Searching for Italy lifestyle series from 2021-2022 was highlighted in this column, and now the follow-up series to the show has premiered with three episodes available to stream right now! Starting off in the Italian regions of Tuscany, Lombardy, and Trentino-Alto Adige, Tucci explores the cuisine, culture and history that has become an important of these regions. He ends his five-episode show with Abruzzo and Lazio, but don't be surprised if Tucci continues to find ways to showcase the great dishes the country has to offer and share his love of Italian food with us. (Disney+)

Netflix Tudum 2025 (TV-MA) — In 2020, Netflix held its first global fan event called Tudum. It took place in Sao Paulo, Brazil, and featured celebrities from its biggest shows at the time, like Lana Candor and Noah Centineo (To All the Boys I've Loved Before). Now the event has evolved to include live performances and will stream for fans all over the world to enjoy from the comfort of their homes. Lady Gaga, who recently dropped the album Mayhem, will be performing a song from the album, and stars from shows like Squid Game, Stranger Things, Outer Banks and more will be present for interviews and exclusive news. This is not a night to miss for the dedicated Netflix fans out there! (Netflix)

Addicted to Vegas

Warning: Fremont Street may cause excessive laughter, neon-induced eye strain, and a sudden urge to gamble. — Anonymous

After June 21st, daylight hours start gradually decreasing and I couldn't be happier. What's to like about high humidity, sweltering days, sunburns and skin cancer. I wasn't careful and have had skin cancer more than once, so grease up with SPF sun lotion and have regular dermatology checkups. You'll be glad you did if something pops up and you can get it treated earlier, not later. But enough about that misery, and on to our latest Vegas visit.

If you've never been to Vegas, oh my. It's addictive and I don't mean just the gambling. There's plenty to do that does not involve banging the slots for 24 hours straight; the ratio being four Las Vegas locals to each slot machine. If you want to get married, Vegas is the wedding capital of the world with 150-plus couples getting hitched every day; Elvis and Priscella being one couple. The four-mile stretch of lit-up Las Vegas Boulevard is one of the brightest spots on Earth as viewed from outer space. And, not to be missed, is Bellagio Conservatory next to Bellagio casino/hotel's lobby. At 14,000-square-feet, it features 10,000 potted flowers with displays swapped out by a 24 hour a day, 6 days a week staff. My husband and I visited in February for the Chinese Lunar display, based on the Chinese zodiac. Because this is the year of the snake, the main feature was a 28-foot floral serpent along with red and gold silk lanterns and a koi fish fountain. Snakes are connected to intuition, transformation, and charm, but also to potential evil or danger for those born in 1929, 1941, 1953, 1965, 1977, 1989, 2001, 2013, 2025, 2037. As for me, I am under the sign of the dog and my husband, the sign of the pig. Those under the dog sign are generally considered good friends, supportive, and compassionate individuals. However, they can also be critical and prone to anxiety and worry. Yep, that sounds like me. As for Robert, sign of the pig, these people are characterized as kind, compassionate, and gentle—also diligent, generous, and reliable; making them good friends and partners. I guess that's true since we've been married close to fifty years. I think I'll keep him.

My favorite place to be in Vegas is downtown Fremont Street. It has been cleaned up from years ago when it had a less than stellar reputation among tourists. In 1995, Fremont Street transformed into a pedestrian-friendly promenade with a 5-block long LED canopy. The nightly light and sound display attracts millions of visitors who come to enjoy the free shows under a roof of digital art. Additionally, there are free music concerts, not to mention show girls and others who expect a monetary tip if you take a photo. Lastly, don't forget bingo at the Plaza. Robert and I play there every time we visit. Last time we were again big losers and I blame Freddy Mendoza, one of their friendly callers. I promised to mention him if I bingoed. I didn't, but I'm doing it anyway because I'm a forgiving person and don't hold grudges. Be afraid, Freddy, be very afraid. Just kidding. Until next month, may Lady Luck blow you kisses as you dance out the door with dollars. Win big. Contact: nlpvz6172@gmail.com

QUESTIONS

1. Who released "Hey There Lonely Boy"?
2. A cover of which Kinks song gave Kirsty MacColl her biggest success?
3. Who released "There's a Moon Out Tonight"?
4. Which artist wrote and released "Careless Whisper"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "If the sky above you should turn dark and full of clouds, and that old north wind should begin to blow."

ANSWERS

1. Ruby & the Romantics, in 1963. This was followed by Eddie Holman's "Hey There Lonely Girl," in 1969. Both songs have been covered by several others.
2. "Days," released by the Kinks in 1968. MacColl's 1989 cover was later used in a camcorder commercial, getting her even more success.
3. The Capris, in 1958. No one paid attention when the song was first released. Several years later, however, the song climbed the charts after a DJ played it on the air.
4. George Michael, in 1984.
5. "You've Got a Friend," by Carole King, in 1971. Legend says that King wrote the song in response to the James Taylor song "Fire and Rain," with its line about "lonely times when I could not find a friend." The song won a Grammy for Song of the Year.

Celebrate Summer in Style with Classic Crab Imperial

Summer is here, and with it, all the special occasions that call for something a little extra (without totally breaking the bank!). Whether it's a backyard birthday, a beachside bridal shower or just Tuesday on the patio with friends and chilled wine, sometimes you want to serve something that says this moment matters.

Introducing Crab Imperial — a dish so luxurious it practically wears pearls. Born in the coastal kitchens of Maryland in the late 1800s, Crab Imperial is one of the East Coast's most elegant ways to showcase its prized blue crab. This isn't a crab cake. This is tender, sweet crab meat folded into a creamy, savory sauce, tucked into ramekins, topped with a golden breadcrumb crown and baked until bubbly. It's rich, delicate and timeless.

A Few Words About Krab

Now, let's address the crustacean in the room. Real crab can be pricey, and you might be tempted to substitute imitation crab — aka krab with a "k." I get it! I use it in plenty of recipes myself. But not here. This dish is a treat, and you deserve the real thing.

That said, this recipe is a clever way to stretch a pound of crab meat to feed up to eight people. If you need to extend it further, add another egg yolk and a half cup of extra breadcrumbs to bulk it out without sacrificing flavor. And if you do buy imitation crab for other recipes, look for versions made from wild-caught Alaskan pollock — it's the most sustainable option.

CRAB IMPERIAL

Yield: 8 appetizer servings
Total Time: 30 minutes

- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon Old Bay seasoning + more for garnish
- 1 teaspoon Italian parsley, finely minced
- 1 large egg lightly beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 pound (16 ounces) jumbo lump crab meat
- 1 teaspoon butter, melted
- 1 tablespoon panko breadcrumb
- Lemon wedges, toast points, sliced baguette or crackers for serving Preheat oven to 350 F.

In a mixing bowl, stir mayonnaise, egg, sugar, Old Bay, lemon juice and parsley together, and blend well. Gently fold crab meat into the sauce, being careful not to break up crab meat any more than absolutely necessary.

Divide portions among the baking dishes of your choice, using ramekins or small casserole dishes. You can make four 6-ounce (practically a meal) servings or eight 3-ounce appetizer servings.

In a small bowl mix the melted butter with the breadcrumbs. Sprinkle this lightly over each portion, then top the crab imperial with a dash of Old Bay.

Bake in 350 F oven for 20 minutes as the tops turn golden brown, or until a thermometer gets an internal reading of 165 degrees to be sure the egg in this recipe is fully cooked.

Optional but highly recommended: Pour a glass of something cold and celebratory. Sparkling wine pairs beautifully, but honestly, even lemonade feels festive with a bite of this indulgent delight.

While Crab Imperial is often served as a luxe appetizer, it can also be the star of a special-occasion meal. Try spooning it over grilled chicken breast or steak for a showstopping entree, or use it as a filling for mushrooms. Serve it alongside a crisp green salad, seasonal grilled vegetables or a chilled asparagus platter for an elegant summer supper. For brunch, pair smaller portions with poached eggs and toasted English muffins — essentially a Maryland-style Benedict. And don't forget the drinks: Champagne or a buttery chardonnay is classic, but a dry rosé or citrusy mocktail would be just as lovely.

Horoscopes for July 2025

ARIES (MAR 21-APR 20): Make a promise to yourself to widen your circle of friends this summer. You'll find inspiration from folks who are unconventional in their ways and means. This will fire up a new creative project that just might benefit from a collab or two.

Lucky Days: 4 - 20
Lucky Numbers: 2 - 22

TAURUS (APR 21-MAY 21): Discipline pays off big time this month. The smallest (or biggest) effort can move forward effortlessly if you apply patience and skill to the task. Your loyalty and allegiance to those in your close circle is crucial, so don't hesitate to ask for assistance or assurance.

Lucky Days: 3 - 28
Lucky Numbers: 35 - 56

GEMINI (MAY 22-JUN 21): Secrets: Potent when contained, unwieldy when released into the wild. Think twice before you divulge what's been entrusted to you. This also means keeping your bright new ideas to yourself before sharing them prematurely with the world—nurture them for a while.

Lucky Days: 9 - 19
Lucky Numbers: 39 - 49

CANCER (JUN 22-JUL 22): The full Moon on the 10th nudges you into a complex situation that needs to be resolved. Use your fine-tuned intuition to avoid trapdoors and entanglements. The upside of this task is that you're about to be relieved of an annoying puzzle that's been driving you crazy for a spell.

Lucky Days: 4 - 14
Lucky Numbers: 5 - 53

LEO (JUL 23-AUG 23): You're about to discover how small the distance is between small dreams and big visions. It's all a matter of describing yourself positively after repeating the phrase "I am" (with a word that is affirmative and loving.) This is a form of mercurial magic. Don't knock it until you've tried it.

Lucky Days: 4 - 27
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 29

VIRGO (AUG 24-SEP 23): Mars, the planet of propulsion in your sign this month, injects your day-to-day life with a blast of high-octane cosmic energy. Apply to whatever you're investigating or investing in presently. Avoid turning your critical eye on those in your close circle; save that for improving your efforts.

Lucky Days: 3 - 14
Lucky Numbers: 11 - 46

LIBRA (SEP 24-OCT 23): A new kind of pressure has entered your life this summer. If you're up for growing with grace, this period can offer you rewards for your various projects and efforts. But you need to face truths head on. Don't jump over what seems hard or messy. Dig in for best results.

Lucky Days: 1 - 11
Lucky Numbers: 22 - 44

SCORPIO (OCT 24-NOV 22): How persistent are you? That's a big question to consider this month as distractions try to claim your attention. A surprising solution gathers momentum beneath the noise and confusion. Devise a system/schedule you can stick to. Keep your eye on the prize.

Lucky Days: 3 - 21
Lucky Numbers: 8 - 18

SAGITTARIUS (NOV 23-DEC 21): Why is it that our hearts feel more flexible than our minds? A lot as to do with being vulnerable and open to the world around you—which is what the heart allows each of us to do. The mind judges and compares. The heart tries to say yes to as much of life as it can.

Lucky Days: 3 - 30
Lucky Numbers: 6 - 56

CAPRICORN (DEC 22-JAN 20): The full Moon in your sign on the 11th shines light on the difference between faith and belief. If you're following the rules and mandates of someone (or something) else, you'll lose track of your inner guidance. You're built to go slow and win. Trust in your own ways—and carry on step by step.

Lucky Days: 6 - 16
Lucky Numbers: 44 - 47

AQUARIUS (JAN 21-FEB 19): The cosmos is offering you a chance to shake things up and experiment with how you relate to the world. This can be doubly exciting if you're in the dating market. But it also gives you a green light for spicing up existing relationships too. Experiment. Take chances.

Lucky Days: 4 - 16
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 54

PISCES (FEB 20-MAR 20): This month you might feel like you're fighting the world on various fronts. That's OK, sometimes we all have to tussle. The key to winning is putting all of your facts in order. The tidier you become, the more power you have to define your direction forward.

Lucky Days: 7 - 17
Lucky Numbers: 23 - 49

Car Maintenance

If you're like most people, this is the time of year to get out your lawn equipment to shape up your yard. But before you fire up your lawn mower, trimmer, and other yard gear, the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI) reminds you to keep safety in mind.

"We all want to get outside and work on our yards, but your equipment needs some attention first," says Kris Kiser, President and CEO of OPEI, an international trade association representing outdoor power equipment, small engine, utility vehicle, golf car and personal transport vehicle manufacturers and suppliers. "A little prep can go a long way in keeping things safe and running smoothly."

Here are a few simple tips:

- Follow manufacturers' guidance. It sounds basic, but it's important. If you lost the manufacturer's owner's manual, you can usually find it online.

- Inspect your equipment. Check fuel, oil and air filters. Look for damaged or missing parts.

- Never disable, modify or remove safety devices.

- Use fresh fuel. Buy the amount of fuel you need. Never store equipment with fuel in the tank. Remember, storing fuel in hot, humid conditions will make the fuel grow stale more quickly.

- Charge batteries using an appropriate charger. Use the charger that came with your equipment and follow the manufacturer instructions. Follow their guidance on storing batteries properly.

- Clean and store equipment properly. Wipe off dirt and debris and keep your equipment in a dry spot.

- Always keep kids and pets away while operating equipment.

For more safety information about outdoor power equipment, visit www.opei.org.

The Most Common Blackjack Mistakes

I've been playing blackjack in casinos for some many decades—in Vegas, the Midwest, Mississippi, Louisiana, Atlantic City, Connecticut, New York, Canada and many more places that would just bore you if I listed them all. So, I'm not exaggerating when I say I've watched a lot of blackjack players during my lifetime. The good ones all have one thing in common. They know how to play their hand and they know when to increase their bets. The bad players on the other hand have one or more of the five following characteristics.

Don't Know the Basic Playing Strategy

You would think that all blackjack players would know that to win at blackjack they must learn, and correctly use, the basic playing strategy. Basic playing strategy is no secret—it's available in books, in articles, and on the internet.

You can even purchase a card that contains the basic playing strategy that you can bring right to the tables when you play. How easy is that?

I would guess that at best only 25% of the players know basic strategy perfectly. Yes, even the experienced players rarely know all the plays. It's just not good enough to know half the strategy and guess at the rest, or worse deviate from the right play because you get a "feeling." When you play blackjack, you need to play like a robot.

Trying to Beat the House with a Betting Progression

I see this all the time. It seems players have a fascination with betting progressions because they are easy to use, and players mistakenly believe that what happened on previous hands will somehow affect their chances of winning future hands. Well it won't and it can't. You are fighting a losing battle with progressions for one simple reason.

In the history of blackjack, there has never been any study that proved your chances of winning the next hand increase based upon what happened (won or lost) in previous hands. There is no magic bullet here. Using betting progression in blackjack might be fun because sometimes in the short run you get to make some adrenalin-pumping big bets which you will win. But in the long run guess what? The house edge doesn't change one iota. And what's worse you will lose more using betting progressions in the long haul than just betting the same on every hand because your average bet increases when you use a progression (remember even with basic strategy the house still has the slight edge so the more you bet the more you stand to lose). Nope, betting progressions don't work in the long run so—forget about it.

Betting Because You are Due to Win

Player bets $5 a hand and loses 4 or 5 hands in succession. Now they increase their bet to $10 because they figure they're "due to win." You are not "due" anything in the casino and certainly not a winning hand just because you lost the 4 or 5 previous hands. Remember what we said earlier. The results of previous hands have no bearing on the outcome of future hands in blackjack, so don't bet more thinking you are due to win.

Not Knowing When to Quit

Player gets ahead by $100. The tide turns and they start losing. What do you think the player does? How many say, "Quit with the profits" and how many say, "Keep playing"? Probably 90% of all casual players will keep playing. Why? Greed and the desire for action. I ask you, is it better to play three hours but wind up losing your profits back to the house or quit with a $100 profit after playing one hour? I know what I would do.

Believing that Blackjack is All Luck

These players put blackjack in the same category as slots. It's all luck, so why bother? You can say that about slots and roulette and most other casino games, but you'd be dead wrong about blackjack. Why? For the simple reason that blackjack is a game of skill and the odds can be changed in your favor if you know how to play the game skillfully. This has been proven over and over by many blackjack mathematicians. You can be a successful blackjack player that plays the best game the casino has to offer if you just avoid the above mistakes and stick to the facts—which is learn the basic playing strategy and use the strategy for every hand dealt to you.

"SAVVY SENIOR"

YOU ASK THE SENIOR QUESTION

~ WE FIND THE SAVVY ANSWER

by JIM MILLER

Vision Care

Dear Savvy Senior,
 What all does Medicare cover when it comes to vision care? I currently have good vision insurance through my employer but will lose it when I retire. —Almost 65

Dear Almost,

Many soon-to-be retirees are a bit blurry with what Medicare does and doesn't cover when it comes to vision care. The good news is that Medicare covers most medical issues like cataract surgery, treatment of eye diseases and medical emergencies. But unfortunately, routine care like eye exams and eyeglasses are usually the beneficiary's responsibility. Here's a breakdown of what is and isn't covered.

Eye exams and treatments: Medicare does not cover routine eye exams that test for eyeglasses or contact lenses, but they do cover yearly medical eye exams if you have diabetes or are at high risk for glaucoma. They will also pay for exams to test and treat medical eye diseases if you're having vision problems that indicate a serious eye problem like macular degeneration, dry eye syndrome, glaucoma, eye infections or if you get something in your eye.

Eye surgeries: Medicare will cover most eye surgeries that help repair the eye function, including cataract surgery to remove cataracts and insert standard intraocular lenses to replace your own. Medicare will not, however, pick up the extra cost if you choose a premium multifocal lens that restores full range of vision, thereby reducing your need for glasses after cataract surgery. The extra cost for a premium lens can run $1,500 to $4,000 per eye.

Eye surgeries that are usually not covered by Medicare include refractive (LASIK) surgery and cosmetic eye surgery that are not considered medically necessary.

Eyeglasses and contact lenses: Medicare will not pay for eyeglasses or contact lenses, with one exception: If you have had a conventional intraocular lens inserted during cataract surgery, Medicare will pay for eyeglasses or contact lenses following the operation.

WAYS TO SAVE

Although original Medicare's vision coverage is limited to medical issues, there are ways you can save on routine care. Here are several to check into.

Medicare Advantage plans: Many of these plans, which are alternatives to original Medicare and sold through private insurance companies, cover routine eye exams and eyeglasses, but coverage is limited so be sure you understand the specifics. While I don't recommend enrolling in an Advantage plan just to get vision coverage it is an option you should know about. To locate Advantage plans in your area that provide vision coverage, go to Medicare.gov/plan-compare or call 800-633-4227.

Purchase vision insurance: If you get routine eye exams and purchase new eyeglasses annually, a vision insurance plan may be worth the costs. These policies typically range between $5 and $30 per month. Most plans will also have copays or deductibles you'll be responsible for.

Check veterans' benefits: If you're a veteran and qualify for VA health care benefits, you may be able to get some or all of your routine vision care through VA. Go to VA.gov/health-care/about-va-health-benefits/vision-care to learn more.

Find cheaper shopping options: Many retailers provide discounts—between 10 and 50 percent—on eye exams and eyeglasses if you belong to a membership group like AARP or AAA. You can also save by shopping at discount retailers like Costco Optical, Sam's Club Optical or Target Optical—all recommended by Consumer Reports. Or consider buying your glasses online at retailers like: ZenniOptical.com, EyeBuyDirect.com or GlassesUSA.com which offer big savings. To purchase glasses online, you'll need a valid prescription from an eye doctor (no more than a year old), plus your pupillary distance number, which is the distance, measured in millimeters, between the centers of your pupils in each eye.

Look for assistance: There are also health centers and local clinics that provide free or discounted vision exams and eyeglasses to those in need. To find them put a call into your local Lions Club for referrals.
